

AfPA Announces Resignation of CEO Carlos Rial and Appointment of Tony Aloisio as Interim CEO

Wednesday 11th April 2024

On behalf of the board, the Australian Flexible Pavement Association (AfPA) today announces the resignation of Carlos Rial from his position as CEO. During his tenure, Mr. Rial has demonstrated unwavering dedication and has made significant contributions to the association and the flexible pavement industry. We wish him well in his future endeavours.

AfPA is pleased to announce that Tony Aloisio has accepted to come on board as Interim CEO for the next 6 months. Tony is a respected and recognized member of the industry and past chair of AfPA with an in-depth knowledge of our members, stakeholders, and issues. This appointment is effective from Monday 15th April.

We have no doubt he will do an outstanding job leading the AfPA team and our Association in the next few months and will continue to bring the value AfPA is known for in the fields of Safety, Sustainability, Training, Technology, Diversity, and Inclusion, Capacity, and Funding.

Under Tony's leadership, the Association will also start a search for a permanent CEO, and we expect we will attract some outstanding candidates.

We have a strong financial position, a strong brand, an involved and committed membership. Together with a talented team working in a manner that reflects the standards and ethics of our members and with your active involvement, we are confident that AfPA will continue to be the trusted Voice and Advocate of the Flexible Pavements Industry.

The Board members and I are available for any clarification you may need.

Thank you for your continued participation and support.
